ENERGY SCAMS UNMASKED

BY MJM PRESIDENT/CEO, JOE HEYEN

Consumers with water, gas and electricity connections have long been targets for utility scams. But in today's digital world, every swipe and click increases the risk of potential scams.

Scammers are more sophisticated than ever before, and they understand our increasing reliance on technology. With their sharpened digital knives, scammers have adapted their tactics to trick unsuspecting consumers through a variety of methods.

MJM wants to help you avoid energy scams, whether a financial loss or leak of your personal information. This month, I'd like to share updates on some of the latest utility scams, as well as tips to help you stay safe from even the craftiest scammers.

RECENT UTILITY SCAMS

Scammers typically disguise themselves—either physically or digitally—as utility employees or representatives to steal consumers' money or personal information. A common trick is to claim a consumer's bill is past due and threaten to disconnect service if payment isn't received immediately. Scammers approach consumers through a variety of means, including phone calls, text messages, emails and even in-person visits. However, the digital line of attack is increasingly more common.

For example, new capabilities disguising caller ID or "spoofing" can make the phone number you see on caller ID appear to be from a trusted source. Spoofing makes it easier for scammers to deceive you because it's more difficult to immediately verify the call. Another recent scam uses fraudulent websites that are identical to a utility payment webpage—and what's worse, these pages are often promoted on search engines to trick consumers into clicking and making a payment.

Another recent scam involves phone calls, text messages or emails claiming you overpaid your electric bill and will receive a cash or banking refund. This offer may seem too good to be true, and it is—it's likely a scam aimed to steal your personal information.

SPOTTING A SCAM

There are several red flags you can watch for to identify an energy scam. Scammers often use high-pressure tactics to create a sense of urgency, like claiming your electricity or other services will be disconnected if a payment isn't made immediately.

Additionally, scammers may ask for unusual payment methods such as gift cards or cryptocurrency. If someone is pushing for an unusual payment method, it's likely a scam. You've probably noticed that many digital scams, like emails or text messages, include poor grammar, spelling errors and odd email addresses. These are red flags, so when you see these dodgy forms of communication, consider it a potential scam.

WHAT MJM WILL (AND WON'T) DO

MJM will never demand an instant, immediate payment and threaten to disconnect your service without prior notices or warnings. We strive to resolve challenging situations and work with our members to avoid disconnects.

MJM will never ask for your Social Security number or banking details through email. We offer several secure payment options, including in-person, on our mjmeccoop.com website, scheduled payments, and the SmartHub app.

AVOIDING SCAMS

Whether in-person, over the phone or online, always be suspicious of an unknown individual claiming to be a MJM employee requesting banking or other personal information.

If you're ever in doubt about a potential energy scam, just give us a quick call at 217-707-6156 so we can assist.

MJM wants to help protect you and our community against utility frauds, and by notifying us about potential scams, you can create the first line of defense. We encourage you to report any potential scams so we can spread the word and prevent others in our community from falling victim.

UNLOCK COMFORT AND SAVINGS

by Eric Cooper, MJM Communications & Member Services Coordinator

If you're working on your summer to-dos, consider adding home weatherization to your list.

We typically think about weatherizing our homes during winter months when we're standing next to a chilly window or a drafty exterior door. But weatherizing your home provides comfort and energy savings year-round, especially during summer months when your air conditioner is working overtime.

According to energystar.gov, a home with insufficient insulation and air leaks wastes more than 20% of the energy used to heat or cool the home--that's essentially throwing money out the door. Fortunately, most weatherization projects are easy to DIY and can be completed in a day.

The simplest and most cost-effective weatherization strategies include air sealing around windows and exterior doors.

If you have older windows, odds are you have air escaping through tiny cracks and gaps around the frame. Do a quick visual inspection. If you can see any daylight around the frame or the windows rattle easily, you likely have air leaks. Also check for any small cracks around the frame that may not be visible with sunlight.

If you suspect you have leaky windows and plan to apply new caulk, be sure to remove the old caulk and clean the area well before application. Caulking materials vary in strength and properties, but you'll likely need a half-cartridge per window.

Silicone caulk is a popular choice and can also be used to seal joints between bathroom and kitchen fixtures. If you have any leftover caulk, use it to seal those areas.

Another effective but simple weatherization project is installing weatherstripping around exterior doors. The most common types of weatherstripping options are V-channel, felt and foam tape. To choose the best type for your home, consider temperature fluctuations and weather exposure. Most homeowners opt for felt or foam tape; both options are easy to install but will need to be replaced every couple years, depending on wear and tear. Weatherstripping should be installed around the top and sides of the door.

If you see daylight around the bottom of an exterior door, consider installing a door sweep in addition to weatherstripping. Door sweeps are available in aluminum, plastic, vinyl and felt options.

Weatherstripping can also be installed around windows, typically to the sides of a double hung or sliding window, or around the window sash.

If you're unsure how to install weatherstripping or apply caulk, check out trusted websites like Lowes.com or energy.gov for step-by-step instructions and video tutorials.

Another way to improve comfort in your home is adding insulation. While this is a more costly project and requires a professional's help, it's an effective way to decrease heat flow, which impacts energy use in winter and summer months. Older homes may need additional insulation to either replace older materials or meet newer efficiency standards. Contact a qualified installation specialist if you suspect your home's insulation levels are inadequate.

The best way to identify air leaks in your home is a blower door test. A blower door test helps determine how airtight your home is and identify air leaks.

In addition to saving energy, air sealing can help you avoid moisture control issues, improve indoor air quality and extend the life of your heating and cooling system. Weatherize your home to unlock year-round comfort and savings on monthly energy costs.

UNCLAIMED CAPITAL CREDIT CHECKS

In December 2023, MJM returned $545,119.52 in capital credit allocations to members who purchased electricity from MJM in 1984. MJM sent checks to inactive members and mailed them to the last known valid address on file. As of April 2024, the list below contains the names of members whose checks were returned to MJM by the post office because of incorrect addresses, or whose checks were not cashed.

Members on this list should contact MJM and provide an updated address so that the check may be reissued. If one of your relatives is on the list and he or she is deceased, we are able to rewrite the check in the name(s) of the member's heir(s).

The paperwork can be found online at <https://mjmec.coop/> under the Billing Tab > What are Capital Credits? You may also contact MJM directly to request that MJM mail you the paperwork. Early estate retirements are also available allowing families to obtain their family member's remaining capital credits at a discounted rate.

If you need assistance or have questions, please call 217-707-6156 and press #2 during regular business hours.

Capital Credits: Are they considered taxable income?

If you are a residential customer, you will only receive a 1099 tax form from MJM if your Capital Credit check is more than $600.

If your electric service is for business purposes, and payments for electricity are deductions in the calculation of taxable income, Capital Credits will affect your income tax liability. You may want to consult with your tax advisor.

FR/AR Gear

Flame-resistant (FR) clothing is made from specialty fabrics—aramid, modacrylic, synthetic blends and even treated cotton, nylon or wool—that won't ignite when exposed to intense heat. Arc-rated (AR) clothing is simply FR gear that has been scored for its ability to resist burning when exposed to the extreme temperatures of a high-voltage flash. Modern FR/AR garments are gauged based on caloric protection and have been engineered to be lighter-weight and more breathable, durable and flexible.

Arc Flash

An arc flash occurs when a breakdown in insulation or a short circuit causes electric current to flow through the air between conductors or from a conductor to ground. It causes a sudden release of intense heat, light and energy.

Headwear

FR hard hats or helmets and FR balaclavas or hoods under the helmet to protect the neck and face.

Face Shield

Undergarments

FR base layers or undergarments for added protection.

Shirt

Jacket

Extra layer of protection, especially in colder climates.

ENERGY EFFICIENCY TIP OF THE MONTH

Did you know ceiling fans can help you save energy? Ceiling fans create a windchill effect on your skin to make you feel a few degrees cooler. Raise the thermostat a few degrees and turn on fans to reduce air conditioning costs.

Set fan blades to rotate counterclockwise during summer months and clockwise during winter months. Remember, ceiling fans cool people but don't actually lower the indoor temperature. Turn them off when you leave the room.
